

A New King and Knickerbockers

Further episode from this novelised history of celebrated Wreake Valley* chapel Just before Burns night, 1901, the frail old Empress shuddered, sighed, and was gone. She had ailed for many weeks following a punishing round that would have taxed a Sovereign half her age. At Christmas she retired to Osborne House on the Isle of ...

read more