

Fire and Wine

Window in St Peter's Basilica, Rome A poem for the Feast of Pentecost
And then it happened... We hung around for safety above ground level the clamouring souls outside a packed embolus fain clutching our feet as if they craved live contact with celebrity and sought a fragment of him we could not furnish that ...

read more