

Smothering Sorrow

Mary was to look back on those few days filled with air and light and blossom buds as through a magnifying glass. For soon, she was sentenced to a further spell of seclusion in different lodgings in St George Street, Hanover Square. Thus began a nomadic pattern which lasted for some two years with the object ...

read more

Posted originally: 2010-07-01 15:47:09 Read Full Article